ROBOTICS
SUMMER CAMP

Campers will experiment with a variety of fun, hands-on activities meant to spur their interest in robotics, engineering and programing. Children will learn teamwork and problem-solving skills while taking part in a VEX IQ robotics challenge, building and creating with Hexbugs and solving programming challenges with Ozobots. Parents are encouraged to attend this camp with their child but it is not required. Only registered campers and one parent per child may participate. The VEX IQ Robotics camp is taught by Shawn Hardina of the East Valley Robotics Academy.
