Subject: Balanced Housing Plan Follow-up - Year to Date Summary of Housing Entitlements

In the Balanced Housing Plan adopted by City Council in October 2024, the annual housing needs in Mesa - for both single-family and multi-family housing - were identified. Figure 5-12 of Balanced Housing Plan shows the following need for housing through the year 2030:

Year	Population	Households	Annual Citywide Single Residence Housing Need	Annual Citywide Multiple Residence Housing Need	Total Housing Need
2024	525,936	193,316	1,359	806	203,623
2025	528,888	195,416	1,359	806	205,788
2026	531,857	197,516	1,359	806	207,953
2027	534,842	199,616	1,359	806	210,118
2028	537,845	201,716	1,359	806	212,282
2029	540,864	203,816	1,359	806	214,448
2030	543,900	205,916	1,359	806	216,612

The Planning Division is tracking entitlement approvals for residential projects (see Page 2 – Year to Date Summary of Housing Entitlements) to help the City better understand the supply and need. It is important to note that the number of entitlements may exceed the annual needs identified because not all entitlements will be built, and some may expire.

There was no change since this report was provided on June 11, 2025.

The Planning Division will provide this summary to the Planning and Zoning Board each month.
