or modification to this Agreement will be valid or binding upon the Parties unless made in writing and signed by each Party. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original. The Parties agree that should any part of this Agreement be held to be invalid or void, the remainder of the Agreement will remain in full force and effect and will be binding upon the Parties. Electronically transmitted and imaged copy signatures will be fully binding and effective for all purposes.

WAIVERS. No waiver of this Agreement will be valid or binding unless written and signed by the Parties. Waiver by either Party of any breach or default of any clause of this Agreement by the other Party will not operate as a waiver of any previous or future default or breach of the same or different clause of this Agreement.

ASSIGNMENT. Neither Party may transfer or assign this Agreement or any of its rights or obligations hereunder, directly or indirectly, or by operation of law, without the other Party's prior written consent, and any attempt to the contrary will be void.

GOVERNING LAW AND VENUE. This Agreement will be governed by the laws of the State of Arizona without regard to any conflicts of laws principles. ASU's obligations are subject to the regulations/policies of the Arizona Board of Regents. Any proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement will be conducted in Maricopa County, Arizona. Each Party consents to such jurisdiction, and waives any objection it may have to venue or convenience of forum.

FAILURE OF LEGISLATURE TO APPROPRIATE. In accordance with A.R.S. § 35-154, if ASU's performance under this Agreement depends on the appropriation of funds by the Arizona Legislature, and if the Legislature fails to appropriate the funds necessary for performance, then ASU may provide written notice of this to Sponsor and cancel this Agreement without further obligation of ASU. Appropriation is a legislative act and is beyond the control of ASU.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST. If within three (3) years after the execution of this Agreement, Sponsor hires as an employee or agent any ASU representative who was significantly involved in negotiating, securing, drafting, or creating this Agreement, then ASU may cancel this Agreement as provided in A.R.S. § 38-511.

In the event this Agreement is canceled by Sponsor, Sponsor will remain responsible for payment to ASU for all work performed through the date of termination and for reimbursement to ASU of all non-cancelable commitments incurred in the conduct of the research. Non-cancelable commitments will include employment commitments to ASU personnel through the end of the semester following any such termination by Sponsor. Notwithstanding payment for all work performed through the date of termination and for reimbursement to ASU of all noncancelable commitments incurred in the conduct of the research, any unused funds from the Advance will be returned. In the event ASU terminates this Agreement any unused funds from the Advance will be returned.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION. In the event of any dispute, claim, question, or disagreement arising from or relating to this Agreement or the breach thereof, the Parties will use their reasonable efforts to settle the dispute, claim, question, or disagreement. To this effect, they will consult and negotiate with each other in good faith and, recognizing their mutual interests, attempt to reach a just and equitable solution satisfactory to both Parties. The Parties acknowledge that disputes arising from this Agreement may be subject to non-binding arbitration in accordance with applicable state law and court rules.

Each Party (as 'indemnitor') agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the other Party (as 'indemnitee') from and against any and all claims, losses, liability, costs, or expenses (including reasonable attorney fees) (hereinafter collectively referred to as 'claims') arising out of bodily injury of any person (including death) or property damage, but only to the extent that such claims which result in vicarious/derivative liability to the indemnitees, are caused by the act, omission, negligence, misconduct, or other fault of the indemnitor, its officers, officials, agents, employees, or authorized volunteers.

INSURANCE. ASU maintains general liability insurance and worker's compensation coverage as required by state law and pertinent federal laws and regulations under the State of Arizona Risk Management Plan.

These regulations require that covered prime contractors and subcontractors take affirmative action to employ and advance in employment individuals without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, protected veteran status or disability.

ADVERTISING, PUBLICITY, NAMES AND MARKS. The Parties will not do any of the following, without, in each case, each Party's prior written consent: (i) use any names, service marks, trademarks, trade names, logos, or other identifying names, domain names, or identifying marks of a Party (ASU Marks or City of Mesa or Mesa Police Department Marks) for any reason, including online, advertising, or promotional purposes; (ii) issue a press release or public statement regarding this Agreement, except for documents used for internal consumption by a Party; or (iii) represent or imply any endorsement or support of any product or service on the part of the other Party in any public or private communication. Any permitted use of ASU Marks must comply with ASU's requirements, including using the ® indication of a registered mark.

Force Majeure. With the exception of a Party's payment obligations, no liability shall result from the delay in performance or nonperformance caused by force majeure or circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the Party affected, including, but not limited to, acts of God, fire, flood, substantial snowstorm or other weather condition, war, terrorism, embargo, any United States or foreign government regulation, direction or request, accident, disease, pandemic or epidemic, strike or other labor dispute or labor trouble, civil unrest, or any failure or delay of any transportation, power, equipment or communications system, other emergencies that disrupt a Party's operations, or any other or similar cause beyond that Party's reasonable control.

The Party which is so prevented from performing shall give prompt notice to the other party of the occurrence of such event of force majeure, the expected duration of such condition and the steps which it is taking to correct such condition. This Agreement may be terminated by either Party by written notice upon the occurrence of such event of force majeure which results in a delay of performance hereunder exceeding thirty (30) days.

FEDERAL DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS. Sponsor acknowledges and agrees that: (1) federal agencies that provide funding for research may require disclosure of contracts pursuant to Section 223 of the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA), Section 117 of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended (HEA), and National Security Presidential Memorandum 33 (NSPM-33) (collectively, "Federal Disclosure Requirements"); and (2) nothing in this Agreement shall prevent ASU from disclosing the Agreement to federal agencies pursuant to the Federal Disclosure Requirements.

EXHIBIT A

Scope of Work and Budget

BACKGROUND

The Center for Violence Prevention and Community Safety at Arizona State University ("ASU") will develop a crime analysis technical assistance and training program for delivery to officers and staff in the Mesa Police Department ("MPD"). ASU will embed two crime analysts within the MPD to enhance organizational capacity to use applied crime analysis to generate, analyze, and report data to inform police operations, decision-making, and policy development. The project is intended to enhance crime analysis capacity through increased staffing immediately and expose staff to more advanced crime analysis concepts and methods and build staff skills that will enable them to formulate and address problems of interest to their agency/organization.

A focus of the Project will be to enhance MPD's capacity to perform administrative, strategic, and tactical crime analysis. Emphasis will be placed on analysis, scanning their respective environments (internal and external) for problems, issues, and trends, and to use data analysis to gain a deeper understanding of these problems, issues, and trends for use by police leaders and policymakers to respond to crime. An additional focus will be using applied research methods to evaluate agency/organizational performance and the impact of agency practices and policies on justice and security outcomes and assessing the completeness of their agency's data.

The above goals will be realized through the achievement of three objectives:

Objective 1: Enhance Analytical Capacity.

ASU will hire two entry-level crime analysts with advanced crime analysis training and embed them in the Mesa Police Department to work an average of 32 hours a week. The analysts will serve as an analytical resource to support the MPD's focus on data-driven responses to crime and violence and support a system-wide approach to justice issues. The analysts will be responsible for: 1) building the analytical infrastructure required to conduct citywide analysis and problem-solving and 2) conducting research and engaging in analytical work relevant to data-driven policing and policy. These individuals will have dual reports: A professor at ASU and a designated supervisor of policy making rank (i.e., sworn or civilian) from the Mesa Police Department.

The ASU crime analysts will primarily be focused on tactical, strategic, and administrative crime analysis. Tactical crime analysis will focus on repeat incidents and tactical data collection, pattern identification processes, identifying meaningful and useful patterns, and describing and disseminating known patterns. Strategic crime analysis will focus on long-term trends, which will be used to develop strategic plans to address particular problems. Administrative crime analysis will focus on providing summary statistics and data to police managers for them to better understand crime problems affecting their community.

Objective 2: Diagnosing Crime and Capacity to Respond to Crime Problems.

Following the placement of the analysts, they will conduct scanning and analysis of specific crime-related problems in Mesa. ASU crime analysts will begin by identifying possible recurring problems in the city (i.e., scanning phase). The problems identified using this model are not to be isolated incidents having no connection with one another but instead are to be problems that manifest as a collection of related incidents that share one (or more) underlying cause. Following the scanning process, analysts will analyze information about the problem selected for attention in an attempt to identify its scope, nature, and cause (i.e., analysis phase). This will lead the analysts to focus on three characteristics of the identified problem: actors (victims, offenders, third parties), incidents (physical setting, social context, sequence of events), and past responses (by the police, prosecutors, courts, corrections agencies, and other government and non-government organizations).

ASU will work with the MPD to develop brief and easy-to-understand analytic reports that detail the scope and nature of the identified problems. The reports will be provided to managers and executives to select those problems for possible response and intervention to educate them on the benefits of analysis and problem solving in the city.

Objective 3: Technical Assistance and Training.

In addition to the above, ASU proposes to provide three types of technical assistance and training, which will be conducted in collaboration with MPD.

- a. ASU will provide a minimum of two crime analysis training sessions per year for police managers and executives. These sessions will provide police leaders with information about the role and responsibilities of crime analysts, including appropriate expectations for crime analysis products.
- b. ASU will provide in-house peer-to-peer crime analysis training (up to) once a month for one hour for current crime analysts. The ASU crime analysts will lead these training sessions in an informal setting, such as a brown bag lunch. Topics will be determined in cooperation with MPD crime analysts, ASU crime analysts, and ASU professors.
- c. Following the identification and selection of problems identified by ASU analysts (see objective 2), ASU professors will review crime analysis work products and propose evidence-based responses to each problem. Proposed responses will often emphasize the use of alternative solutions and incorporate key stakeholders' assistance. Technical assistance provided by ASU will emphasize that responses need to go beyond conventional approaches, using well-considered strategies and tactics that could impact the conditions that generate the problem, rather than merely treating its symptoms.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

ASU professors will be responsible for administering the Project, supervising the Project and any employees of ASU, and providing the training and technical assistance under the Project.

ASU Crime Analysts-Two graduate level students or the equivalent would be hired by ASU pending a background check by Mesa Police Department. Each analyst would be responsible for working an average of 32 hours per week at a location determined by MPD. MPD would be responsible for computer and software for each analyst. The ASU crime analyst would be expected to remain in this position for no less than one year.
